Day After Day Productions, Inc. (DADP) is widely considered the expert in the field of producing entertainment events for casinos and corporate entities worldwide. Owned and operated by one of the entertainment industry's entrepreneurial leaders, Seth Shomes, DADP consists of the following divisions: (1) Booking Agency; (2) Casino Division; (3) Sports Marketing; (4) Talent Buying and Corporate Events; (5) Themed Cruises and (6) Content Creation. All information on clients and projects can be found at www.dayafterdaymusic.com.

Seth Shomes (CEO) is one of the touring world's premier independent music agents. His career started in March 1997 at the esteemed Associated Booking Corporation (ABC) in New York where he trained under legendary agent Oscar Cohen. In November of 1998, he opened Day After Day Productions where he now oversees a diverse client roster of the world's greatest entertainers and artists. A pioneer within the casino entertainment field, Seth utilizes his vast relationships to formalize and execute contemporary entertainment marketing strategies for artists and casinos alike that sell tickets as well as drive retail packages and high roller gaming. Day After Day Productions also books events on a special project basis for artists such as Collective Soul, Paul Oakenfold and Sylvia Browne and has implemented casino radio promotions for rock icons such as Pearl Jam and Green Day. Due to the success he has had with providing career direction for his own roster, Seth is continually hired to produce casino events and has worked with everybody from Snoop Dogg to Sugar Ray. Through his efforts, Seth has received praise from the highest level of casino executives for his ingenuity in developing unique marketing strategies that have proven to be more successful on multiple levels than those of his contemporaries. Among his various endeavors outside of the casino world Seth is the co-creator of the popular ROCK THE SOAP themed cruise showcasing daytime television's biggest stars. Seth is also the creator and executive producer of multiple television projects that are currently in development.

Laurie Diorio (President of the Casino Division) joined DADP after having spent twelve years developing the entertainment program at Mohegan Sun's multiple award winning venues. During her tenure at Mohegan Sun, the venues within that property were recognized as the Academy of Country Music's Venue of the Year in 2005, as well as ranked in the Top 20 Busiest Arenas in the country in 2006 & 2007 by Billboard and Pollstar magazines. She was responsible for maintaining a balance of genres between the property's three distinct venues, and hosted such well known contemporary artists as Justin Timberlake, Keith Urban, Gwen Stefani, Staind, Aerosmith and Tim McGraw - to those artists who appeal to a more "traditional" casino demographic such as Paul Anka, Willie Nelson, Frank Sinatra, Jr. and Yanni. Laurie brings a comprehensive knowledge of casino operations and marketing, as well as an understanding of the importance of integrating entertainment programs with player reward opportunities. Laurie heads up the East Coast operations for Day After Day Productions.

Aaron Levine (Agent) graduated from the University of Southern California's prestigious Annenberg School for Communication with an emphasis in public relations and the entertainment industry. Following graduation Aaron went on to work in the media relations department of ABC television, covering hit shows such as Desperate Housewives, Lost, and According to Jim. In 2006 Aaron joined Baker, Winokur and Ryder Public Relations as an account coordinator in the corporate division, working extensively with clients such as Pride Fighting Championships, Netflix, Rick Dees, The Palm Springs Film Festival, Sports Club LA and Lemony Snicket. In 2007 Aaron joined DADP, bringing with him an extensive knowledge of event coordination, public relations, and marketing. In the last two years he has worked extensively in contract negotiations, tour marketing, and show advancement, as well as handling day to day responsibilities for clients such as Pauly Shore, The Band From TV, Staind, and Aaron Lewis of Staind.
